SUN BEAMS

by WALTER M. BARRETT

In requesting the board of supervisors for an appropriation fund to assist in the fish raising and protection program in this end of the county, we feel that the officers and members of the Sierra Fish Planting Club should win support. If it were possible to summarize the volume of advertising gained and the business resulting from fishermen visiting this region, we are certain the board would not hestitate in granting the request. We think of few better ways to promote the county, especially the some-times neglected east end, than through support of the fish program.

Due to the rush of business and the opening of the trout fishing season, the work of the so-called clean-up committee has stopped temporarily. Considerable good work has been accomplished by the group and now that the sanitary board has agreed to enforce ordinances governing the disposition of garbage and refuse, it is felt the work will be well taken care of without the aid of the volunteers who have given so generously of time and cash to get the town in a far more presentable shape than previously. It is also believed residents will now have an incentive to care for their own refuse and keep the town spick and span.

A brief outline of the season's activities of the Wyethia Women's Club is a credit to the organization, officers and members. Revived only last year after being inactive for several seasons, the women have certainly earned considerable credit. They have not alone brought about a desirable social organization, affiliated with state and county groups but have now turned their hands to definite community projects. The first of these proposed tasks will be the planting of trees on suitable locations in the town, a project worthy of support and commendation.

There's something about this fishing business that sometimes proves a real goat getter. While numerous attempts to lure the foxy fish fail to bring results for some fishermen, others take a few minutes along the river and return with baskets full, limits of the finest variety. Maybe it's just as well for the river that everyone dosen't have such good fortune—but it sure gets tiresome!

WYETHIA CLUB HAS BIG PROGRAM FOR CLOSING SEASON

The Wyethia Women's Club has had a busy season since the year opened last September. During that time the club has sponsored two public card parties, a food sale and other local functions, it was announced today by Mrs. Elden Tonini, publicity chairman.

Among other accomplishments, the club has had the porch of the club house repaired, installed an oil burner in the kitchen, paid the taxes and insurance for three years, put in a supply of fuel and purchased dishes and a large lace table cover.

New officers elected for the next year are to be installed May 17, are Dorothy, Garibaldi, president; Olla Tonini, vice president; Sylvia Barton, financial secretary; Edith Deaton, recording secretary; Isabel Nobles, treasurer and Lena Goode, auditor.

The club has resumed affiliation with the Tri County Federation and has donated to the state art fund. In the tri-county work four local members are officers. They are Irene Englehart, Mrs. S. M. Richardson, Olla Tonini and Marjorie Zoebel.

A tri-county meeting was held here this season with 46 at the luncheon. The club has organized the art and bridge sections, promoted the Red Cross drive here and secured Christmas decorations. There are 48 members of the organization and the purpose for the future will be to promote diversified inmprovements for the community.

Incorporation Petition Filed In Nevada City

Slight Error May Postpone Immed'ate Action On Local Petition

IS UNDER ADVISEMENT

Attorney Seeking Correction Of Boundries In Filed Document

County Clerk R. N. McCormack this week had on file a petition bearing the signatures of 62 local property owners requesting an election on the proposition of incorporation. The paper was submitted to the board of supervisors asking that the town of Truckee be converted into a municipality to be known as "City of Truckee."

McCormack said yesterday that a slight error had been detected in the proposed boundaries indicated in the petition and the document had been referred back to Ward Sheldon, attorney, who is handling the legal phases of the question, for correction. Whether the error will affect the petition will be determined through legal advice, McCormack said.

Under current incorporation laws, Truckee would become a sixth class city if the proposition is approved. No intimation was given by the clerk or members of the board as to the probable date of the election.

The petition is the culmination of a period of discussion both pro and con that started with a fact finding committee in the Truckee Lions club more than a year ago. The signers of the petition felt that many factors justified bringing the issue to a head as soon as possible.

TWO WOMEN ESCAPE DEATH AS AUTO CRASHES ON ROAD

Mrs. W. H. Daly, 38, Columbo Hotel, Reno, suffered back injuries which necessitated her removal to a Reno hospital, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. B. Greno, was hurt less seriously on Tuesday morning when a car driven by the former got out of control at the railroad underpass near Hirschdale and, after skidding 210 feet, according to Patrloman A. C. Barrick, who investigated, overturned.

Fred Planett of Verdi, caretaker on the Knight Estate at Emerald Bay, was said by the officer to have concentrated on the wreck and not on his own driving and ran into the rear of a parked car belonging to A. C. Marts. The Planett car went over the embankment but the driver was not hurt.

Both Mrs. Daly, who was said to have been traveling westward at an excessive speed in a heavy fog, and Planett were cited for careless driving by Barrick.

Mrs. Daly and Mrs. Greno were en route to San Francisco when the accident occurred about 6:30 a. m.

FUNDS ARE ASKED FOR FISH PROGRAM IN THIS DISTRICT

Four members of the Sierra Fish Planting club, including President E. L. Loynd, Secretary Yell Nobles, C. B. White and W. M. Englehart, Sr., met with the Nevada County board of supervisors last Thursday to petition that group to appropriate $250 from the advertising fund to assist in the work of the local club.

It was pointed out by Loynd that the planting and protection of trout in the region did much toward bringing people to the eastern end of the county and urged the county's participation in the program.

The board took the matter under advisement and will render a decision in a later meeting, it was announced.

Requests for a county library and a county farm adviser were also taken into consideration.

Drunkeness among old age security recipients was brought to the attention of the board. One violator was present and although plainly under the influence of liquor, denied the charge. He was finally ordered into the custody of Sheriff C. J. Tobiassen who was present and he was taken to the county jail for the night.

The board made an order that persons on relief who purchased intoxicating liquor would be summarily removed from the relief rolls of the county. The board took the stand that expenditure of taxpayers' money for liquor was not within the purview of the old age security act.

WORK STARTED TO IMPROVE HILL FOR WINTER PROGRAM

The big county-maintained bulldozer and two men under the watchful eye of Dan Smith this week opened the way toward a winter sports playground when they were employed in removing scores of trees from the proposed ski run on the hill south of town. Although the program has not been definitely outlined, Smith took opportunity by the forelock and while the tractor was available, had the preliminary steps taken.

The community committee under the chairmanship of Yell Nobles met last Thursday evening at the fire house to further winter sports plans. Committees report progress but another meeting next Thursday will be called before further steps are taken.

CAMP FIRE PERMITS ARE NOW NECESSARY

Distribution of camp fire permit blanks and register sheets are being made to the Tahoe National Forest camp fire permit agent according to E. L. Baxter, in charge of fire control for the forest. The same policy will govern this year as last, Baxter says, and issue permits will be confined to governmental and semi-governmental offices.

These permits are designed to call the attention of forest visitors to the necessity of care with fire. In addition to the permits, the shovel and ax for automobile or pack train must be carried in the forest to build fires. The minimum requirements for the tools are: Ax, over all length, 26 inches, head, two pounds or more in weight; shovel, over all length, 36 inches, blade eight inches wide.

TWO MEN ADDED TO FOREST CREW HERE

Roy Cox, protective assistant, and Nelson Stone, patrolman, were added to the Truckee station on May 1 by the Tahoe National Forest Service.

Charles R. Ment opened the station of the Lake Tahoe district early in April. Other positions are to be filled June 1 and 16. These stations are usually in the high country and are the shortest terms.

About two weeks ago 20 CCC boys were sent to Hobart Mills to get the camp ready for occupancy this summer.

Democrats Give Roosevelt Huge Local Majority

Allen's Ham and Egg Group Scores Only One Local Tally

LIGHT VOTE RECORDED

Olson's Third Term Ticket Is Top Heavy In Local Balloting

Truckee Democratic voters followed closely the trend of the state when they gave a top-heavy majority to the third term slate, headed by Governor Olson, pledged to President Roosevelt. The vote was canvassed last Tuesday in a state-wide preferential primary

The Roosevelt slate won in every county in the state, with a ticket pledged to Vice President John N. Garner running a poor second. Elsewhere in the nation this week either unpledged or favorite son candidates won in presidential primaries. Speaker William Bankhead of the House of Representatives will have the delegates from his home state, Alabama, as a result of Tuesday's balloting.

In Truckee, Roosevelt received 183 votes; Garner, 15; Ellis E. Patterson, 6 and Willis Allen, 1.

On the Republican side, an unpledged delegation, headed by State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell of Roseville, drew a light vote in comparison to total registration. In Truckee Seawell's ticket polled 58 votes while Thomas E. Dewey, aspirant for the nominaion from New York, got 2 write-in votes.

The tabulation by precincts here was as follows:

CANDIDATE	NO. 1	NO. 2
Roosevelt	114	69
Garner	8	7
Patterson	4	2
Allen	1	0
Seawell	29	29
Dewey	(write-in)	2

MORE LIMITS ARE TAKEN BY LOCAL LUCKY ANGLERS

Although Sunday proved to be an off day for most local as well as visiting fishermen, a number of fine limits have been taken from the Truckee river during the past week. The river has been fluctuating considerably and this is blamed for the "spotty" luck.

Among the local experts who got limits were Nat Quilici, who has had three limits out of four trips to the river, Verne Shattuck, Walt Ashton, E. E. Valverde and Orlan Sanders.

Frank Kinne reported a nice catch with flies on the river near Big Chief. Other fly fishermen reported only fair results, although the river is getting better for this more refined fashion of luring the finny funsters.

This seems to be a year for tyros, the old timers reporting only mediocre luck and the beginners bringing them in by the limit.

EDITORIALS

TOMMY'S A REAL AMERICAN

Tommy Wadelton is thirteen years old. He belongs to a typically individualistic American family, and a short time ago he sat down and wrote a book about himself. Last week it was published.

For those who have expressed a concern about the soundness of the next generation, certain passages in Tommy's book are heartening, particularly one in which he tells about his visit to a "Youth Congress." Here is Tommy's comment-

"I asked them if they thought Communism was a good thing, and they mostly did. They said no country had a really good government and I said the U. S. A. certainly had a swell government and one lady Youth said I was a Quaint Child, so I got up and lefa."

Tommy's departure from the meeting, we think, reflects the attitude of the vast majority of American youth today. Most young Americans are more interested in the opportunities provided in this country than in arguing about the futile and viscious "isms" of other lands.

There's as much sound common sense as humor in Tommy Wadelton's reaction to the remark by the "lady Youth" —and there's certainly nothing "quaint" about his attitude!

POLITICS COME FIRST

Adjournment of this session of Congress is practically "guaranteed" by the Democratic leaders and with the seeming approval of Republican chiefs around June 15 to 25, in order to give clear get-aways for the Republican and Democratic conventions that are to nominate cadidates for President and Vice-President. Thus a rather anemic session will come to an end.

PUBLIC UTILITIES

The Security and Exchange Commission continues its efforts to break up the great utilities empires. The "death sentence" is the answer.

The Federal drive seeks to put the management of utilities under more local control, instead of somewhere on the top-floors of office buildings or in the big banks of great cities. Maybe the big fight between the Federal and corporate interests will clear up the aims of the "death sentence."

MOTHERS DAY

Let's not forget next Sunday—Mother's Day!

Any token of remebrance, a gift of flowers, a card or letter, will do, for on this—of all the days of gift-giving— it is the thought you remebered which will be the most precious of gifts you can give.

Some of you may be indifferent, or pretend to be, and will say, "Mother's Day—a lot of sentimental stuff!"

But all that this occasion calls for is the giving of some simple sign of remembrance. Only think back and recall, by contrast, how much she has given you—hours of sympathy and understanding when you were a youngster, long years of devotion and patient care that you accepted with scarcely a thought for the selfless labor and sacrifice that all these efforts called for. Such thoughtfulness on her part you did not consider "sentimental", nor did she expect thanks or words of praise for her labor and love.

She may not even expect them on this special day set aside in her honor, but if she does, very likely she will never tell you if you prove remiss. She will just tell herself you were too busy, too wrapped up in important matters of your own to remember.

But why not surprise her with an expression of your thoughtfulness? She'll be mightily pleased and proud that you didn't forget.

This old world is full of great things it can't pay for.—Bill Huff in the Toronto Republican.

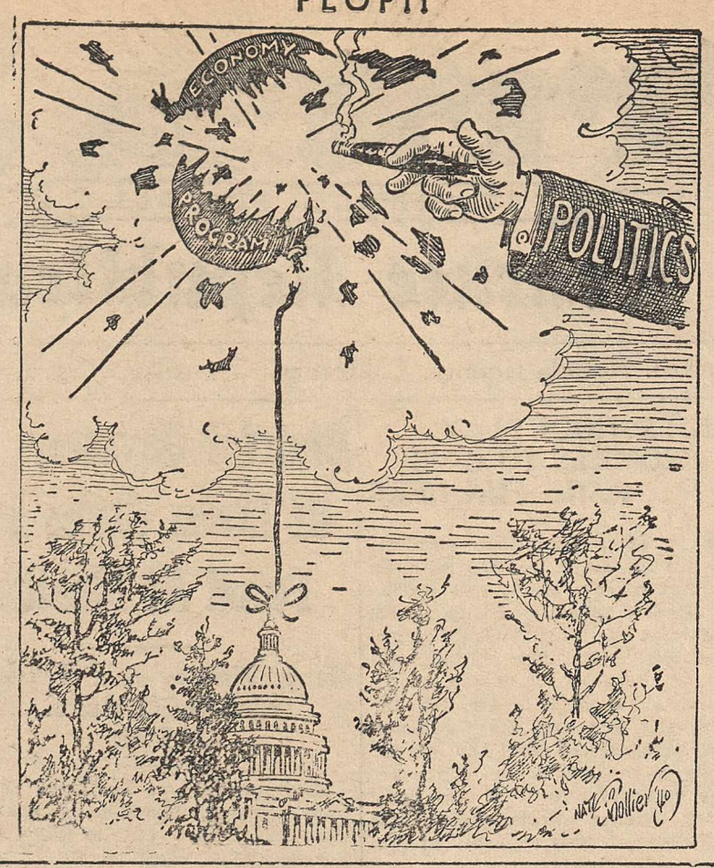
PLOP!!



Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, May 9 —(U.P.)— Many long months of speculation on the Olson recall movement finally brought the filing of first petitions and the likelihood of an election in August or September.

The first filings of names in Sonoma and Santa Clara counties brought immediate charges it was a political move to embarrass the Roosevelt delegation in the May 7 presidential primary, on which Governor Olson is a key member.

There were claims that the John Nance Garner campaign was behind the move. Francis B. Allchin, a signer of the recall petition, even went so far as to secure a temporary restraining order against the filing of any names in Los Angeles county until a hearing on May 10.

Allchin charged the Olson recall committee planned to file sections of the petitions piecemeal right up to the day of election to embarrass the Roosevelt delegation. Furthermore, said Allchin in his affidavit, "ranking agents" of the recall committee were leaders in the Garner campaign.

Under the California recall law, the final petition must be filed within 40 days from the first petitions, and be represented in at least five counties. Since 318,176 names are required, it is almost certain that Los Angeles, San Francisco, Alameda, San Diego and one other large county will be in the hopper.

When the required total is certified, the lieutenant governor must call the election in not less than 60 nor more than 80 days. Many recall advocates believe that the balloting should be on August 27, the same day as the August primary.

The governor was scornful when informed of the petition filing. He said:

"I will leave it to the public to draw its own conclusions as to the motives of filing these petitions today, just prior to the election.

"If the recall should qualify, however, I will have plenty to say about the motives of the filing and the motives of the men behind it."

The election campaign started out to be preey tame but it ended up in ablaze of controversy. Until the recall blast, the chief scrappers were Olson and Lieutenant Governor Ellis E. Patterson, the left-wing leader who deserted the Roosevelt-Olson ticket.

Charges flew thick and fast, with the Garnerites getting in some good licks, too. The vice president's backers made the most of the point that Garner was the only avowed candidate in the race.

The ham and eggers were suprisingly silent in the pre-campaign days apparently confining their effort to pension meetings.

Willis Allen, the ham and eggs leader, was not only trying to hold his disorganized forces together on the presidential delegation but petitions were being circulated for Ham and Eggs No. 3 on the November ballot. The first two plans were trounced at the polls but a streamlined version, desgned to interest more voters, has been fixed up.

This new plan drops the minimum weekly scrip payments to $20 but adds a $7 weekly payment for all unemployed between 21 and 50 and the same amount to students between 21 and 24.

Indeed interesting will be the total vote cast for Ham and Eggs. The movement either will be a has-been or a full-fledged minority vote that cannot be disregarded.

Republican leaders were not optimistic for a heavy vote because the G.O.P. interest was barely perceptible for an unopposed delegation. After the was qualified the drums began beating. Mrs. Robert Taft will be visiting California soon and all the Republican candidates will have covetous eyes on the unpledged delegation from the far west.

The election campaign has covered up the importance of the approaching legislative session beginning May 13. It should be a history maker of real proportions. A whole flock of interim committees will be filing reports that should raise some eyebrows and the governor will be under the stiffest pressure of his career.

There is no doubt that the old capitol building is witnessing some of the most dramatic times in California history.

Know Your AMERICA

(Ed. Note: This is one of a series of short articles taken from data compiled for scenes of "America! Cavalcade of a Nation", theme spectacle of the 1940 California World's Fair.)

The first permanent English settlement in America was at Jamestown, Virginia, in 1607. The little settlement was named after King James I, and was saved from ruin when Captain John Smith instituted disciplinary measures in the governing of the settlers. From 1609 colonization increased rapidly; by 1619 a legislative body was formed and by 1641 there were 15,000 English in the colony. It was this successful English colonization in Virginia that inspired further colonization by the Englisr in Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island and other colonies along the Atlantic seaboard.

This Business of LIVING

by SUSAN THAYER

Is there anything more satifying in all this world than a good spell of spring housecleaning? Of course it leaves you with aching muscles and broken finger nails. But no woman minds sacrifices like that when she can look at her home "sweet with order," sparkling with cleanness, in tune, somehow, with the freshness and the beauty of spring.

The spring housecleaning urge will hit oyu suddenly some day, if it hasn't already. You'll know the moment you wake up and find the spring sunlight pouring into your bedroom window that this is the day you go into action against the dirt and disorder of the winter. Everything is on your side for this cleaning. The feel of the day. The sunshine that seeks out every speck of dust. Even the store down at the corner is ready to meet every unexpected need.

On the morning you decide to clean house, you'll put on your oldest dress, make short work of breakfast and plunge in. Perhaps it will take you a week and you'll go to bed dog tired every night. But won't your house be a joy? Windows will sparkle. Floors will gleam. Curtains will be crisp and fresh. You'll find it a pleasure to sit down in any of the rooms of your house and just look around at the peace and beauty you've made with your toil.

Of course to be really perfect you should get one of the rooms painted or papered or at least something new for it. But if you're trading in the old car for a new on this spring maybe you haven't much money to put into your house. But even so you can at least make over your kitchen the way I did with almost no strain on your budget.

When I started in on the cupboard shelves I had no idea of doing anything extra this year. But after I'd taken off the old shelf paper and washed the shelves until they smelled fresh and clean, I knew they must wear a different color for spring. I'd had a red edged paper on them all winter. But, suddenly I was tired of red. I wanted to dress them in green. That's when I discovered what an ally I had in that store at the corner. They had a grand selection of shelf papers and I found exactly what I wanted. It is criss crossed in green and when I had it folded along the shelves they looked as fresh and pretty as the trees in their new leaves.

But that shelf paper started things It made the rest of the room look os shabby and dull that I couldn't stop there. There had to be other new things in my kitchen—green things—since that was the color scheme I'd begun on, to give the room the lift the new shelf paper suggested. That's when I went back to the corner store.

Men all over this country must have been thinking about this kitchen of mine for months because all the things I wanted were right here in that little store at prices I could afford! First of all there was some wonderful green dotted muslin for new curtains, and just the right shade of green oil cloth for the kitchen table and pans with green edges and handles and the smartest green tea kettle you ever saw. I hurried home to get everything placed before John and the children came home. John was cross at first and started to scold me for spending so much money. But when I told him how little all those new things had cost he smiled and told me what a smatr girl I was. No, I said, I'm not smart. It's the man in the store at the corner and those other men, whom you and I have never seen, whom made these things for the man in the store to sell me. Maybe the manufacturers of this country aren't prefect but they certainly know what women want these days . . .and give them to us at the lowest prices in the history of the world.

Story of Bottomless Lake is Debunked

The following is another excerpt from The Tourist Guide and Directory to the Truckee Basin, published at the Truckee Republican office by C. F. Edwards, publisher, in 1883.

So far as known Tahoe is the first name ever applied to this body of water. The meaning of the word is by no means certain. It is usually said to be a Washoe Indian word meaning "Big Water," according to others "Elevated Water," others "Deep Water" and others "Fish Lake". Whatever may be the meaning of this name, there can be no question but that the Washoe Indians designated this remarkable body of water by some characteristic name long before the earliest pioneers of civilization penetrated into its secluded mountain recess. In 1844, we have the first account of it from John C. Fremont, who misplaced it on the map, supposing its waters emptied into the American river, and called it Mountain Lake. Charles Preuss made a general map of explorations and named it Lake Bonpland, intended as a remembrancer of one of von Humboldt's friends. Up to 1853, it was known by one of these names. About that time (perhaps as early as 1851) some of the military Indian expeditions concluded to honor Gov. Bigler and applied his name, which as used for several years, but as the lake became more known and used as a summer resort by the educated, wealthy and fashionable people, a more euphonious, applicable name was sought, resulting in the adoption of its aboriginal name, a smooth, graceful, easy name, as wild and beautiful as need be; and one that is used on all modern maps and in all encyclopedias. Indians pronounce it Tahoe—not Tah-hoe.

If Tahoe is an Indian word, it must be an importation from the lingo of an extinct tribe in Massachusetts, or some other Eastern state. Certainly the Washoes of the present day claim that they have no knowledge of its meaning.

It is well known that considerable diversity of opinion has prevailed in relation to the actual depth of this lake. Sensational newsmongers have unhesitatingly asserted that in some portions it is absolutely fathomless. It is needless to say that actual surroundings served to dispel or rectify this popular impression. The soundings indicate that there is a deep subaqueous channel traversing the whole lake in its greatest dimensions or south and north.

Beginning at the south end, near the Lake House, and advancing along the long axis of the lake directly north toward the Hot Springs at the northern end, a distance of about 18 miles, we have the following depths:

STATION	in FEET	in METERS
1	900	274.32
2	1385	422.14
3	1495	455.67
4	1500	457.19
5	1506	459.02
6	1540	469.38
7	1504	458.41
8	1600	487.67
9	1640	499.86
10	1645	501.39

These figures show that the lake exceeds in depth the deepest of the Swiss lakes (the lake of Geneva) which has a maximum depth of 334 meters.

Americans To Travel U. S. Because of War in Europe

Americans intend to see America this year and let the warring nations of Europe take care of themselves; such is the general opinion of the touring department of the National Automobile Club. Touring requests are pouring into the NAC heavier than in any previous year and many trips are extensive.

Motorists and vacationists that have no children in school will be wise to plan trips early in the summer or after Labor Day, thus avoiding peak travel months of the family group, who must plan trips during the period that school is out. June and September are possibly the ideal months for visiting a great part of the nation and during these months accomodations are not so crowded as during July and August.

Gen. Charles G. Dawes the "Hell and Maria" hero of the AEF of the World War I and later vice-president of the United States, came back to Washington this week. He told observers that thebudget must be balanced if national bankruptcy and ruin are to be avoided.

The 75-year-old statesman told his audience that that was his last political speech. This brought the point home even more forcefully.

OUR WEEKLY SERMON

by FRANKLIN F. ELLIS
Educational Div., Moody Bible Instit,

There are two verses in the Gospel of John which are strikingly similar in construction, yet strikingly contrasted in content. "There was a man setn from God, whose name was John" (John 1:6). "There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews" (John 3:1). Both verses begin with the same four words—"There was a man"—but the remainder of the verse in each case tells an entirely different story. The first man was "sent from God"; the second was called a man "of the Pharisees."

What made the difference? This question can probably best be answered by simply noting the outstanding characteristic of each life. John 1:6 refers to John the Baptist, and there is no question but that the keynote of his life was humility and love. He constantly humbled himself and exalted Christ. He pointed men away from himself to "the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world" (John 1:29). He said of Christ, "He must increase, but I must decrease" (John 3:30).

In contrast to this, we would say that the outstanding characteristic of Nicodemus was pride and self-interest. He was the one who because of shame and fear came to Jesus by night. He came to Christ with the boastful words, "we know," and recognized Him as a great Teacher, but not as Saviour and Lord.

Strictly speaking, neither of these verses was spoken as an epitaph, nevertheless they provide an interesting study to us as Christians. Someday it will be said of each of us, "There was a man," and the remainder of the sentence will be dependent on what we do between now and then. If we serve the Lord in true humility and love, we may rightly be called men "sent from God." But on the other hand, if we live in pride and selfishness, t may truthfully be said of us that we are men "of the Pharisees." We have the opportunity of choosing which it shall be."

Since 1870, the number of Americans emloyed in distributing goods has increased almost 9 times and the total wages now paid them amount to almost 6 billion dollars a year.

President Roosevelt has told many of his political friends and leaders that he would "prefer" not to succeed himself. The question remains open as to whether the endorsements of Roosevelt in the national primaries are a command for him to become the Democratic standard-bearer. Whether he consents or declines, his personal power will not change. That means he will be able to pick the nominee of the Democratic national convention and that his choice will be nominated. That also means the New Deal will carry on.

Besides Dewey, Taft and Vandenberg on the Republican side, other candidates have been thought of. Among them Frank Gannett, New York publisher, who has made the chips fly in his bitter attack on the New Deal.

With The REPUBLICANS

By HOWARD C. LAWRENCE
(Chairman, Vandenberg Movement)

He always was a fighter—more so than ever now!

Let's make it "Vandenberg" at Philadelphia and "Victory"in November.

We started out a few months ago to draft Senator Vandenberg for the Republican presidential nomination. We are more convinced than ever that we are right. Without a single personal solicitation on his own account, Senator Vandenberg polled 41 per cent of the Wisconsin Republicans and 44 per cent of the Nebraska Republicans in recent primaries. With all respect for others, I submit that this is one of the most remarkable vote-getting records in modern politics. The Senator insisted upon staying on his Senate job. He declined personally to pursue this nomination. This intends no criticism of those who do pursue it. We are Republicans and we shall honor all Republicans who stand forward in this hour of crisis. The point is that Senator Vandenberg proved himself under the circumstances to be greatly trusted and beloved by the mass electorate. The vote he received is a popular tribute which is the final proof of his availability at Philadelphia.

Senator Vandenberg has said that if he is nominated he will put every resource and every energy into the election campaign. We know what that means here in Michigan—because he was the only Republican Senator from any of the larger states re-elected in the hard test of 1934. We know what it would mean in 1940. And I submit that you all know what it would mean if you will remember the record.

There never was an abler, more powerful, Republican fighter than Senator Vandenberg. He fought and won!

Senator Vandenberg still "sticks to his job" in Washigton. The "Vandenberg Movement" voluntarily carries on—on to Philadelphia.

by SEN. SHERIDAN DOWNEY
(U. S. Senator (Demo.) of California)

This is to express my opposition to another term for Mr. Roosevelt. Like many other American citizens, I long have believed that no President should be elected a third time, and I see no reason to change that opinion now. On the contrary, I am convinced that the same circustances which are now concentrating greater power in our executive branch should most seriously warn us of the error of perpetuating increasing presidential influence in one individual for a longer period than eight years.—April 21, 1940 to Chairman Jim Farley.

The Man At The Keyhole

by OPERATIVE WB

Most mysterious are all the rumors floating about concerning the Olson recall petitions. There have been so many phony reports concerning when the petitions would qualify that skullduggery has been suspected at the cross-roads. But the lowdown, our spy advises, is that the boys have been having money troubles. The present prophecy is that the recallers have missed the boat so far as the August primary is concerned and won't attempt to get the issue on the ballot now until the November general election.

Spring flowers and candidates are coming up in almost equal profusion. Hot on the heels of Assemblyman Thomas Kuchel's annuncement that he will seek to step up to the Senate, Thomas K. Gowen, former mayor of Fullerton, has announced for the Orange County Assembly post that Mr. Kuchel is vacating. And in San Francisco, the news is out that former Assemblyman William B. ("Wild Bill") Hornblower has hit the comeback trail and will have a try at unseating Assemblyman Dan Gallagher in the twenty-third.

The Governor Olson-Ellis Patterson feud, which flared into bitter recriminations during the presidential primary battle, may run on forever, like Tennyson's brook. Mr. Olson, for instance, has about decided to throw rcks at Lieutenant Governor Patterson's candidacy for the U. S. Senate. And Mr. Patterson, not to be outdone, is thinking of jumping on the recall bandwagon, with an endorsement of Senator "Bob" Kenny as Mr. Olson's successor. And that's real feudin'!

FUNDS LOST TO SCHOOLS FROM ABSENCE OF PUPILS UNDER STATE ALLOTMENT

Each day that a pupil is absent from school money for operating expense is lost by the school district. The average daily attendance of pub lic school pupils is the basis on which school districts receive state money with which to maintain the schools.

The state found that the amount available in the state school fund, a fund supported by the state sales tax, would bring to each high school district the sum of $87.24 per A.D.A. Reduced to a daily re-imbursement basis it means that for every day a pupil is absent, the school district loses 50 cents. That in itself does not seem to be so important until it is realized that some pupils are absent as many as 30 or more days in a school year.

For every dollar lost in this manner, local property owners must be taxed in order to make up the difference.

PEOPLE say modern lighting that is "easy on the eyes" makes the eyes feel better . . . And they are right . . . Good lighting brings out the beauty of the home furnishings . . . It aids personal beauty, too.

Light that is glaring brightness or that is dim and gloomy makes hard work of seeing. It causes squints and frowns and scowls and brings on many premature wrinkles and face-lines.

Good, modern lighting merely means the right kind of light, and the right amount of light where you read or sew or use your eyes. And you can have it easily, quickly, inexpensively.

AGED INDIAN AT AUBURN RECALLS DONNER PARTY TROUBLES NEAR TRUCKEE

Jane Lewis, a member of the Digger Indian tribe, living near Auburn claims she will be 104 years old this month. She is able o recall many historical events of California including the Donner party tradgedy which occured three miles east of here in the Winter of 1846 and 1847 on what was then called Truckee Lake. The catastrophe occured a few years prior to her marriage.

She was born in the Folsom region and has been an orphan since she was 7 years old.

In spite of her years, Mrs. Lewis performs her simple housekeeping duties as she lives alone. Friends take care of her fuel supply and bring water to her cabin. Her sight is poor and she is partially deaf. In spite of this she is happy.
